Gordon College Department of Psychology
Assistant Professor of Psychology

Social-Personality Psychologist

Gordon College Department of Psychology is seeking to fill a tenure-track appointment at the Assistant Professor level, beginning in January (or August) 2010. The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. and a strong commitment to scholarship, teaching, and mentoring of undergraduate students. In addition to courses in social and personality psychology, we desire candidates who are interested in teaching statistics and research methods and who can contribute to teaching introductory psychology.

The Psychology Department offers outstanding colleagues—faculty who are committed to excellence in teaching, research, and service—and motivated students eager to engage in research and professional activities with faculty. Gordon College is a member of the elite Annapolis Group, a consortium of the nation's leading liberal arts institutions, and is one of the premiere Christian liberal arts colleges in the country. Gordon offers excellent academics, a strong sense of community, and an atmosphere of open intellectual inquiry and personal responsibility within a framework of a serious Christian faith commitment. The college is located in a classic New England town on Boston's North Shore. For more information, visit www.gordon.edu.

Application review will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Please submit letter of application, vita, a statement of research and teaching interests, a sample of academic writing, a statement of educational philosophy, and three letters of recommendation to the Office of the Provost, c/o Cathy Thiele, Gordon College, 255 Grapevine Road, Wenham, MA 01984. Submissions may be made electronically to cathy.thiele@gordon.edu; please include "Psychology Search Committee" in the subject line.
